OFFICE OF INSPECTOR OF NAVAL MATERIAL

Thursday night

Dear Mother & Dad;

I have just finished writing in the Robin so I can mail it in the morning.
There isn't much additional news except for some routine activities of ours. We attended a dinner party last ~~for~~ Saturday night for the newly promoted Civilian, Lt. Cdr. Kaiser who used to be the senior naval officer in Mansfield. Monday evening was fully occupied with reading the Robin. Tuesday night I didn't feel up-to-par so I didn't do much. Mary and I dealt out a few hands of Bridge as a much needed means of instruction in preparation for our going to the Lt. Miller's for dinner and the evening last night.
Had a real nice time there - did play a little bridge I was terrible but everyone was patient with me under the circumstances. I'll let you know the outcome of the meeting in Cleveland tomorrow. Mary is going up with Lt. Pride and myself as she has an appointment for a routine check-up at the Naval Dispensary.
She is going to stay with friends who live in the apt. where we first landed in Oakland. She stayed with this family when Mary made a previous trip to Cleveland.

Love, George (over)

7.5. I made the Italian spaghetti from the recipe I copied out of your Westinghouse cookbook tonight. It took about an hour to copy the recipe and about five to make the finished product, but it was worth it!! The spaghetti was delicious. I was going to be sure not to make Daisy Lu's mistake of making too much, so I cut the recipe in half, but we still could have had several guests for dinner. Anyway, our supper will be all set for tomorrow night when we get back from Cleveland. Golly, I'm so anxious to find out how soon we will be "out." This is really rather unexpected, because ~~the~~ we didn't have our hopes too high before. Guess ~~if~~ we can just wait + hope. Love,
Mary
